Profile of Graduates

The faculty, staff and administration at Christian Brothers Academy work hard to develop and maintain a positive school environment where students become men. Students at Christian Brothers Academy go on to be leaders and productive citizens who strive to positively affect their communities. The Christian Brothers Academy graduate is:

Devoted to Learning

- The CBA graduate is a life-long learner. Though the classroom is the most common location associated with learning, education does not end with graduation. Once he leaves this school, the CBA graduate is going to be tested and challenged by the world around him. He will need to be a critical thinker, reader and writer and an effective communicator. It is at CBA that he will develop the necessary skills to become an intelligent and well-rounded citizen.

Devoted to Service

- The CBA graduate is a caring, socially-aware individual. It is within the walls of this school that he truly gets to exercise his civic duty and responsibility to others beside himself. He understands that there are many people in this world who are in need. By serving his community, the CBA graduate can see how even small contributions of time, money, effort or resources can have positive effects. No matter what path he takes, he will always carry with him the desire to help others.

Devoted to Faith

- The CBA graduate has a connection to his faith and remembers that he is always in the holy presence of God. He not only maintains a personal relationship with God, but has an appreciation for the many ways that people worship. His faith in God will help him make the important decisions that he will face throughout his life.
